

Dear Prospective Trinity Families,

All good parents strive to make decisions that they hope will bring their children happiness and success in their adult lives. Though we all know that there are some things that are beyond our control, we believe that living in a nice town, involving our children in positive activities and nurturing their academic progress will help them become well-rounded individuals.

Parents who are committed to Catholic Education have the same hopes and dreams for their children. Additionally, they have made a vital choice that will guide them in all of the other decisions they make for their children's futures: they have put FAITH FIRST.

The Pastors of St. Aloysius, Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament and Notre Dame and I believe that putting spirituality at the core of children's lives is the key to helping them become truly self-actualized. Our children need to grow up thinking that they are special in the eyes of God and their parents. They also need to know that, as Christians, they have a responsibility to think outside of their own needs and desires and follow in Christ's footsteps to make the world a better place for all God's people.

The Trinity Academy faculty is committed to keeping this goal at the forefront of their daily spiritual and academic instruction. Their success is evident in the feedback we receive from our graduates and the principals of the fine high schools that they attend. I continue to receive affirmation of their efforts from schools such as St. Peter's Prep, Seton Hall Prep, Delbarton and Oak Knoll that, "Trinity Academy students come to us well prepared to meet the challenges of our competitive academic program."

The Trinity Academy faculty and staff are proud to invite you to enjoy the fruits of an outstanding institution that will add "Faith, Academics and Service" to your recipe for raising a self-actualized child.

May God bless you and your children.
